

Do you like politically-minded music?

Do you like Christmas carols with topical new lyrics?

Do you loathe the FCC's proposal to increase media
concentration in Chicago and nationwide?

Join the 2007
Chicago Media Action
Holiday Singalong
at the Tribune Tower

Where: Outside the Tribune Tower, 435 N. Michigan Ave., downtown Chicago

When: Friday, December 7, 2007 -- from 5pm to 6:30pm

FCC Chair Kevin Martin has been a veritable grinch for media democracy in America. He tirelessly works to give away public media resources to fatcat media moguls.

One of those fatcat media moguls is Sam Zell, who is trying to buy the Tribune. Now, Kevin Martin is trying to abolish the long-standing broadcast station cross-ownership rule which the Tribune has been trying to eliminate, and increase concentration in an already overly concentrated media environment.

But public resistance has been fierce. And Chicago Media Action would like to continue building public resistance – in song, right in front of the Tribune's home.

Join Chicago Media Action for an event perfect for the holidays, with a round of spirited song protest against the fatcats at the Tribune.

Spread the word. Invite your friends. We look forward to seeing you.

P.O. Box 14140, Chicago IL 60614
<http://www.chicagomediaaction.org>